Patented Technology

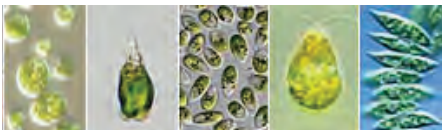

Tom Harper

For nearly a decade, Tom Harper of Unique Sea Farm pioneered the patented technology to grow and harvest multiple species of wild-crafted marine phytoplankton.

Phytoplankton are microscopic plants in the ocean which provide the nutritional foundation for the Oceans ecosystems. Because of his determination and this unique process, we now have access to these essential nutrients in a natural and bio-available form. This nutrient dense whole food ingredient is known as Umac[®].

marine phytoplankton

UMAC[®] is comprised of extracts from multiple species of marine phytoplankton wild-crafted by the pristine coastal waters of the Northeast Pacific ocean. Among the nutrients found in this incredible blend are amino acids, vitamins, sea minerals, enzymes and proteins.

This remarkable blend is unrivaled by any other single form of food, plant, algae, grain or herb

"The Future of nutrition is found in the ocean."

Jacques Cousteau

Daily Use

Each dose of Umac[®] has one million marine phytoplankton cells, jump starting your body with rare sea minerals, amino acids and more. Because several of these nutrients are derived from the ocean and not found in daily diets, we recommend using UMAC[®] on a daily basis to help Restore, Strengthen, and energize your cellular system!

Don't forget about our furry friends!

Umac[®] is great for pets!

Proprietary Blend

What makes UMAC[®] different from chlorella, spirulina, blue-green or any other algae is that Umac[®] marine phytoplankton is wild-harvested, contains multiple species and the patented process ruptures the cell wall, so the nutrients can be accessed and utilized. Marine phytoplankton have a hard plant cell wall our bodies cannot digest, UMAC[®] contains extracted microscopic nutrients for best absorption.

Environmentally Friendly

Marine Phytoplankton use photosynthesis to harness solar energy. This natural cleansing process aids in the reduction of harmful carbon dioxide, and provides life-giving oxygen. Our Sea Farm can remove 1 ton of metric carbon per day when all 8 tanks are running. The production life cycle is sustainable and in harmony with keeping our Earth clean and green!

Easy to Use

1 dropper Full daily, or 3 capsules, will provide your cells with the nutrients they need to help balance, strengthen, and restore your entire system. Try some of the worlds oldest and most powerful food!

Nature's First Complete Food

At this time in history when pollution, over-processed foods, and disease have reached epidemic proportions, many people are instinctively turning to these original life forms for essential micro-nutrient and nutritional healing.

Our technology allows us to tap into a viable and sustainable source of marine phytoplankton which has been the cornerstone of nutrition for over 3.5 billion years!
